

App Tutorial: Login

To have access most of the app's functionalities, you have to create your own account.

To create an account, you must open the "Register" window (as stated in the first guide) and put your personal data in. Both the email and the phone do not have to be right, but at least one of them must be correct so you could have access account.

After registering you can go to the login window, you must put your username/email/phone and your password to log in. If it's your first-time logging in, you will be send a code to your email and phone (in SMS) and you will have to write the code you've got to authorize your account.

If you forgot the password, you could always press on the "forgot password" and change your password with a new code that you will get.
